

Here are some excerpts from the forewords to several of Paul J. Meyer's books that attest to the integrity and results we have been able to achieve:

"Matters of business and personal development are far too important to be left to chance, and the quick-fixes that are legion in the marketplace have shown themselves to be little more than worthless. What you hold in your hands is a unique new strategy for dealing with the age-old problem of leading and motivating others. Paul J. Meyer's bridge is a leadership creed for the third millennium."

"Let me take this opportunity to once again express my high regard for you and for what you stand for. You have motivated so many people in a most constructive way, thus helping create a new generation of leaders."

- Former President George H.W. Bush

"For decades I have used his materials, either for myself or for leaders across the nations, and I am always amazed at the changes that take place in people's lives...Regardless of any limitation we might place on ourselves, we have an incredible opportunity to learn from someone who has chartered a course before us. Take it and run!"
